VEGETINE
FOR
Chills, Shakes, FEVER AND AGUE.

TARBORO, N. C., 1878.

DR. H. R. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir—I feel very grateful for what your valuable medicine, Vegetine, has done in my family. I wish to express my thanks by informing you of the wonderful cure of my son; also, to let you know that Vegetine is the best medicine I ever saw for Chills, Shakes, Fever and Ague. My son was sick with measles in 1873, which left him with hip-joint disease. My son suffered a great deal of pain, all of the time; the pain was so great he did nothing but cry. The doctors did not help him a particle, he could not lift his foot from the floor, he could not move without crutches. I read your advertisement in the Louisville Courier-Journal, that Vegetine was a great Blood Purifier and Blood Food. I tried one bottle, which was a great benefit. He kept on with the medicine, gradually gaining. He has taken eighteen bottles in all, and he is completely restored to health, walks without crutches or cane. He is twenty years of age. I have a younger son fifteen years of age, who is subject to Chills. Whenever he feels one coming on, he comes in, takes a dose of Vegetine and that is the last of the Chill. Vegetine leaves no bad effect upon the system like most of the medicines recommended for Chills. I cheerfully recommend Vegetine for such complaints. I think it is the greatest medicine in the world.

Respectfully, MRS. J. W. LLOYD.

VEGETINE.—When the blood becomes lifeless and stagnant, either from change of weather or of climate, want of exercise, irregular diet, or from any other cause, the Vegetine will renew the blood, carry off the putrid humors, cleanse the stomach, regulate the bowels, and impart a tone of vigor to the whole body.

VEGETINE
FOR
Dyspepsia, Nervousness, AND GENERAL DEBILITY.

BERNARDSTON, MASS., 1878.

We, the undersigned, having used Vegetine, take pleasure in recommending it to all those troubled with humors of any kind, dyspepsia, nervousness, or General Debility, it being the Great Blood Purifier. Sold by R. L. Crowell & Sons, who sell more of it than all other patent medicine put together.

MRS. L. P. PERKINS.
MRS. H. W. SCOTT.
JOSEPHUS SLATE.

VEGETINE is the great health restorer—composed exclusively of barks, roots, and herbs. It is very pleasant to take; every child likes it.

VEGETINE
NERVOUS HEADACHE And Rheumatism.

CINCINNATI, O., April 9, 1877.

H. R. STEVENS, ESQ.:—

Dear Sir,—I have used your Vegetine for nervous headache, and also for rheumatism, and have found entire relief from both, and take great pleasure in recommending it to all who may be likewise afflicted.

FRED. A. GOOD, 103 Mill St., Cinn.

VEGETINE has restored thousands to health who had been long and painful sufferers.

VEGETINE.
DRUGGISTS' TESTIMONY

MR. H. R. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir,—We have been selling your remedy, the Vegetine, for about three years, and take pleasure in recommending it to our customers, and in no instance where a blood purifier would reach the case, has it ever failed to effect a cure, to our knowledge. It certainly is the ne plus ultra of renovators.

Respectfully,
E. M. SHEPHERD & CO., Druggists, Mt. Vernon, Ill.

Is acknowledged by all classes of people to be the best and most reliable blood purifier in the world.

FROM WASHINGTON.

THE CASE OF FITZ-JOHN PORTER.

WASHINGTON, April 16.

Gen. Garfield, who was a member of the courtmartial by which Gen. Fitz-John Porter was tried and dismissed from the service, says that Gen. Pope, "when Porter declined to obey his second order to come to his rescue, wrote an order directing that he be shot on the spot. Gen Roberts, of the regular army, who was on Pope's staff, persuaded him not to send the order, but to give him (Roberts) another missive to convey to Porter, ordering the latter to bring his forces up immediately. This he did and Porter obeyed it, alleging as his excuse for not having moved before that the Confederate forces were massed before him in such strength as to form an impassable barrier. Gen. Porter claims that he can now prove this by Confederate officers and archives. It was no secret here at the time of the trial that Secretary Stanton thought that the Court should have sentenced Porter to be shot, but that President Lincoln declared that he would never approve such a sentence.

THE FINANCIAL QUESTION.

Some Senators predict another long and stormy debate in that body on finance should a new resumption bill be reported.

THE THURMAN RAILROAD BILL.

The friends of the Thurman Pacific Railroads Funding bill gave notice in the House today that after the first morning hour, probably today, a motion would be made to go to the Speaker's table and pass the bill without reference. The railroad fight will commence upon that motion.

FERNANDO WOOD EXPLAINS.

Fernando Wood made a personal explanation in the House relative to the omission of Conger's remarks from the record. He read a letter, in which the exporters of books who do not want a tariff admit that they employ convict labor and that they pay 65 instead of 32 cents per day.

THE NEW ORLEANS COLLECTORSHIP.

The Income Tax.

WASHINGTON, April 15.

In view of the possibility of the passage of the income tax law the Commissioner of Internal Revenue is taking steps to ascertain from the different collectors throughout the country what extra force will be required to carry such law into effect.

THE ARLINGTON ESTATE SUIT.

WASHINGTON, April 16.

The Arlington ejectment case of Geo. Lee vs. the United States Superintendent of Arlington and others, is now on the docket of the United States Circuit Court and awaits argument on its merits. In the meanwhile there has been a motion filed by the counsel for the plaintiff to remand the case to the Circuit Court of Alexandria county, in which it was first begun, but from which it was removed by certiorari to the United States Court, which now holds jurisdiction of the case.

FURTHER WASHINGTON NEWS.

Meeting of the Republican Central Committee.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 16.

The Republican Central Committee met tonight, and resolutions were offered endorsing the speech of Senator Howe, of Wisconsin, delivered recently on the President's policies of conciliation and civil service reform, also favoring a fair treatment of the South, but opposed to ignoble surrender of principle for peace and conciliation; also favoring honest civil service reform, and protesting against testimony of official positions on friends under the false cry of reform, and finally warning all Republicans that the principles of the party are not forgotten nor concealed, through the indecision of weak leaders, or devices of designing men.

Several speeches were made on the resolutions and Wm. A. Darling denounced the civil service reform of the administration as a sham, a fraud and a humbug. The resolutions were finally referred to a committee with instructions to report at the next meeting on them.

THE DISTRICT GOVERNMENT.

The bill establishing a permanent form of government in the District of Columbia, was beaten in the House, by 44 yeas to 121 nays.

THE BLAIR BILL IN THE HOUSE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE.

A member of the House judiciary committee, to which David Dudley Field's bill conferring upon the Supreme Court jurisdiction in the matter of the reopening of the Presidential question was referred, says that he has made careful enquiry of the members of the committee now in the city, and not a single one favors the measure. The bill will never see light again.

EASTERN QUESTION.

A Peace Congress Improbable.

NEW YORK, April 16.

The European political advices this morning, notwithstanding the efforts to avert war, are less pacific. Peace is by no means assured, and the peace congress is becoming more improbable.

It is rumored that England has made counter proposals to Russia, and Russia is to call out a general levy.

Consols opened about ⅛ per cent. lower at 94⅞. American bonds are stronger. New five per cents. have advanced ¼ per cent.

ANOTHER ONE INJUNCTED.

The Emigrant Savings Bank of Boston Goes Under.

BOSTON, April 16.

A temporary injunction was issued, this morning, restraining the Emigrant Savings Bank of Boston from doing business. The new restrictive law was not applied as there is a doubt as to the solvency of the bank which the passage of one dividend would not remedy. The bank owes depositors $2,003,889. It is believed that the latter will in time be paid in full.

Resumption in the West.

NEW YORK, April 16.

Gold resumption is announced by the national banks at Des Moines and Grinnell, Iowa.

THE VERY LATEST FROM THE EAST.

AN UNEASY FEELING AMONG THE RUSSIANS.

GETTING THE DEFENCES READY.

LONDON, April 16.

The Times St. Petersburg dispatch says there is a vague feeling of uneasiness among well informed people today, but no reason can be discovered therefor, except the prolonged suspense.

AUSTRIA'S DESIRE FOR THE CONGRESS.

A Vienna correspondent says: The prevailing idea is that Russia seems to favor a renewal of the efforts for an understanding with Austria. Austria, however, steadfastly adheres to a solution by the congress.

BISMARCK RECOMMENDS THE POWERS TO COMMENCE NEW NEGOTIATIONS.

A Berlin dispatch says it is understood in consequence of the slow progress of attempted mediation, Prince Bismarck has recommended fresh negotiations between the Powers themselves.

In reply, both Austria and England intimated their willingness to treat, but refused to make a definite settlement without a conference.

RUSSIAN TROOPS TO BE QUARTERED ON ROUMANIA.

The Vienna Political Correspondence states that the Roumania government has been informed that 120,000 Russians would occupy the principality.

THE RUSSIANS NEGOTIATING AND FORTIFYING.

The Times Vienna special says trustworthy advices indicate that the Russians, although endeavoring to conclude a convention with Roumania, are taking all means to secure their communications by fortifying positions around Bucharest and Plojesti, and towards the Danube.

BISMARCK'S SPECIAL EFFORTS.

The Daily Telegraph's Vienna correspondent says, according to a well-founded report, Prince Bismarck is endeavoring to obtain simultaneous withdrawal of the British fleet from the Sea of Marmora, and the Russians from the neighborhood of Constantinople.

A GRAND ATTEMPT AT CONCILIATION.

The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph at Berlin learns from a most trustworthy authority that Bismarck has offered his good offices with a view of bringing about an understanding between England, Austria and Russia. It is untrue that he suggested a preliminary conference at Berlin. It is hoped the result of his efforts for mediation will be known Thursday. If they are successful, he will probably suggest the holding of a congress there shortly.

RUSSIA AND ENGLAND

NEGOTIATIONS UNSATISFACTORY.

Gloomy Feeling in London.

LONDON, April 16.

In official quarters and at the clubs the feeling is despondent.

Before the adjournment of Parliament for the Easter recess, Forster (Liberal) will probably ask Northcote in the Commons for the latest information concerning the negotiations.

The fact that that the cabinets of London and St. Petersburg resorted to semi-official intercourse seems to indicate that official expressions would only intensify differences. The result of an interchange of views is not hopeful, Russia substantially repeating her former answer, and England reaffirming the principle originally laid down. Report of an Austro-Russian agreement, under pressure from Bismarck on the former, is denied by Andrassy's friends.

And Beecher is to Fulfill His Lecture Engagements.

BATH, N. Y., April 16.

Mr. Beecher lectured here this evening to a large audience, and was warmly received. He appears cheerful, refuses to read the papers, will make no further statement, will fill his lecture engagements as though nothing happened. He said today if Mrs. Tilton had felt so conscience-stricken, she would have made her statement to the church and not to the newspapers. Mr. Beecher has received a large number of telegrams today, assuring him that the confession has fallen flat upon the country and produced no impression upon his friends.

DEAD-BEATS.

GENESEO, March 13.—D. B.'s,—that means "dead-beats." Now, girls, don't skip this. It's not the tramps I am going to talk about; it's your own pretty selves; for you are dead-beats, as a whole, as a class. Oh, I know how you will all curl your pretty noses, and how the courteous, polite male will also give me the cold shoulder. But if the stating of this truth robs me of every friend in the world, I'm going to state it all the same.

Men are called dead-beats because they hang round saloons waiting for an invitation to "take something," which they always do, —"seeing it's you,"—because they in short live upon the kindness or courtesy of their friends and neighbors. A man who allows himself to accept favors without intent or purpose to recompense soon becomes debauched in sentiment to such an extent that he sinks unconsciously into a "dead-beat." We have "dead-beat" persons, doctors, lawyers, and a Governmental dead-beat class who throng the lobbies of our halls, boring their friends for an office,—an idea of earning a living, of being independent, never enters their heads.

Now, I've seen the finest women become just so debauched in sentiment. Absolutely think it was "real mean" because they were not invited to this lecture or that concert by some young man of their acquaintance, when the truth of the matter is the young man has to "slave off" the washer-woman to buy his own ticket. Now, why should not the lady buy her own ticket? Then the young man would gladly have offered his escort, and the young lady escorted would have been independent, as she is not now, while her amiability is bought and paid for. I don't care about the young man's pocket; it's the effect of this "dead-beatism" upon the young lady herself I deplore. She at last looks upon a husband as she did on that young man,—as something which of right belongs to her, and she has nothing to do only to deign to accept him when he comes. Now I will leave it to any married woman if she has not vastly more. Women begin to part with their independence when they allow themselves to accept anything which costs money from their escort; and men begin to look down upon them because they do. They desire female company, and pay for it. Why should not they look upon woman as an amusement, as a plaything? And why should not women stand in awe of her lord and master? She often is boughten and paid for. To be sure both parties say little about the price, but one feels it is paid, and the other pays it. If it was a horse, or a load of coal, or anything else of any consequence, there would be more haggling. Opera-tickets, gambling debts, tobacco money, whisky, and women, the lords don't dispute about.

A man will give $5 for a bottle of champagne when he knows it's only worth 50 cents, so he will never count the cost or haggle the price when contracting for a wife; probably on that account he will get cheated anyhow. Girls be independent. Don't allow any man living to think your smiles can be purchased with opera-tickets nor offers of marriage, and you will have more and better suitors.

S. OLD.

THE BARINGS.

Francis Baring, a Lutheran minister, came to England about a century ago, and his grandsons established themselves in business in London. The younger brother Francis, had the chief management of the concern, and so successful was he that Lord Shelburne, who called him the "prince of merchants," recommended him for the baronetcy. Sir Francis left the business to his sons, and it ultimately centered in the younger one, Alexander, whose financial influence over the Continental cabinets was so potent that the Duc de Richelieu called him one of the "great powers of Europe," while at home he received the familiar title of "Alexander the great." While still at the head of his house of business he was created Lord Ashburton, and became famous as the British representative at Washington in 1812, when the treaty was negotiated which bears his name. Nor was this the only title that the family gained; for the third baronet was created Baron Northbrook in 1866, and his son, the late Viceroy of India, has recently been raised to the dignity of an earldom. So that the titles of Ashburton and Northbrook have both been derived directly from the mercantile success of the great house of Barings.—[London Society.

In less than three weeks the Paris Exposition will be opened by Marshal McMahon with as much pomp and ceremony as the republican simplicity will admit of. A more fortunate site for an exhibition could hardly be conceived than the Champ de Mars. Certainly there is none in Paris, and it may well be questioned if any city in the world could offer so many superior advantages. It is far enough removed from the great centres to escape the crowd and business which fill the streets, and yet it is within easy distance of the more prominent parts of the city. It may be reached either by carriage, street-car or boat. The site of the Palace of the Trocadero is high, and commands a view of the entire city. All appearances indicate that the exhibition will equal, if it does not surpass, any that has been held. In 1867 the number of visitors was over 10,000,000, the exhibition being open 210 days. At Philadelphia there were about 300,000 less visitors than this, but the Centennial was open only 160 days, making the average 60,000 each day against 47,000 for Paris. But this year's fair will probably far exceed the one of 1867. The main building is nearly twice as large as then, and the magnificent Palace of the Trocadero is in no way to be compared with the tame structure of eleven years ago. The work of preparation is still behind hand and nothing is as yet completed. Many departments are very backward, and those which require the most work are more tardy than those requiring the least. Commissioner McCormick feels confident that the articles of exhibit from the United States will be as well disposed of as those of most other countries when the building shall be formally opened. But in spite of these delays the exhibition will be opened at the appointed time, although it will probably take two weeks after that date to complete the work.

Miss Kate Sanborn, who has just concluded a very interesting series of lecture-room talks before audiences in New York, devoted her last lecture to the subject of Decorative Art. She told how Miss Susan Hayes Ward and Miss Hetta Ward, sisters of Dr. Ward, editor of the Independent, have made a real use of decorative art. Their house in Newark has an air of elegance and comfort, yet not more than $200 has been expended on the interior. The ladies have painted the floors. Their own oil paintings and water colors adorn the walls. They prepared a rag carpet, carrying it to the weaver to be made up. He, inspired by that, produced a Turkish rug effect, with nothing cheap or home-made about it, yet the actual outlay was only $3.50. Their china was all painted by themselves. The furniture is either old furniture transformed by them, or was made after their plans at one-third the ordinary cost.

Several New York brokers have been victimized recently by being induced to advance a few hundred dollars on an imaginary cargo of lumber which was consigned to them for sale, and a seemingly genuine bill of lading having been shown them and the cargo reported in the harbor. The comparatively trifling sum of money having been advanced, on some plausible pretext, on this apparently excellent security, the sharper recipient decamps, and the fictitious character of his merchandise is discovered too late.

The new silver dollar is a thing unknown upon the counters of specie brokers, save that some smaller dealers dispose of a few as curiosities. Although receivable for duties in lieu of gold, the Boston Custom House has taken but one hundred and twenty five of them, in sums ranging from one to sixty dollars, since their issue upon the 18th of March, while the average daily receipts of gold have been fifty thousand dollars.—[Boston Transcript.

An eminent Western clergyman who recently visited Washington, being asked by his friends on his return what he thought of the President, made answer: "Well, I believe that before man his walk is upright, but I fear that before the Lord he wobbles."

The New York Tribune of April 11 says that Commissioner Yung Wing, who is at the head of the Chinese mission in this country, has translated into Chinese Professor Parsons's work on the Law of Contracts, in three volumes.

Among the many converts which Dr. Pentecost has made at Middletown is said to be a man who has just returned $5000, made dishonestly some time ago, to its rightful owner.

The Pawtucket city council has refused to license the show-house at Pawtucket, where Mlle Volante was recently killed by Jennie Franklin on account of the immorality of its performances.

The opening speech at the congress to be held in Paris during the Exhibition, to promote the cause of the international copyright, will be made by Victor Hugo.

Part of the silver communion service of the Providence church of the Mediator was recently stolen.

TEN YEARS EXPERIENCE —IN THE— ROSS SYSTEM OF CULTIVATION.

With the Ross Implements, has never failed to produce astonishing results in the cultivation of all Hoed crops, when rightly understood and directions strictly followed, either flat or hill culture, by which the crops are greatly increased, weeds thoroughly exterminated, saving all the hand labor of planting and hoeing, doing the work much better, producing larger crops in wet seasons, and carries them through a dry one three or four times as long as hand culture, which adds greatly to the crops maturing and lessens the expense of production materially. The most thorough pulverizer in use for mixing soil, manures and fertilizers together, for putting in wheat, oats or rye broadcast, and increasing the crops of grain, also grass for several years, by giving such pulverizing qualities and thorough mixture of soil and fertilizers. Equally good for corn, potatoes, tobacco and root crops, peas and beans, on all soils, whether sand, loam or clay. A stiff clay sod made as old land by using the cultivator before planting, at half the expense of the common harrow. The expense of planting and hoeing an acre through the season varies from $1.50 to $2.50, according to speed of horse, man to operate, and land to work on.

C. H. Hayes, of Portsmouth, N. H., writes me that he hoed 20 acres of corn and potatoes in 1875, at the expense of $1.03 per acre, and better than men could do it with hand hoes. George H. Grace, of Ulysses, Butler County, Nebraska, writes me his corn was full 15 bushels of shelled corn more per acre where he used my machines and followed my system, than where he did not, no manure or fertilizers being used.

Rev. Dr. I. T. Tickenor, President of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, Auburn, Ala., after using, bought 8 machines, and writes us that "the Horse Cultivator and Hoe will revolutionize the cultivation of cotton in the whole cotton growing section." "Book me for another pair of your Horse Hoes next spring. My superintendent says he cannot get along without them."

D. P. Storrs, of Montgomery, Ala., writes, "There is nothing equals them for corn and cotton."

J. W. Sanborn, Superintendent of Agricultural College farm, at Hanover, N. H., after using one season, writes, "They are all that can be desired for hoeing corn and potatoes."

A. Towe, Jonesville, Vt., after using a full set 8 years, writes that "They pay for themselves every year. Could not do without the Ross system and implements."

A. J. Brown, of Vernon, Vt., has eight acres of corns estimated to yield 75 bushels per acre. Planted and hoed through the season after the Ross system, for $6.87; indispensable with me."

Lorenzo Loel and F. A. Brown of Vernon, Vt., have planted and hoed about 50 acres of corn the past season, after the Ross system and implements, without the use of the hand hoe. Having used them 5 or 6 years each, we find nothing equals them for saving labor and doing the work.

L. H. Ross, of South Deerfield, Mass., planted 30 acres of corn, and hoed it three time, at an expense of 30 days work for man, at $13 per month, and 15 days work for horse with the Ross implements. No hand hoeing.

Benjamin P. Ware, of Marblehead, President of the Essex Co. Agricultural Society, writes in his report for 1877, that he planted his corn with the Ross & Co.'s planters, and cultivated wholly with his cultivators, without any hand labor. And this System left the crop clean of weeds and reduced the cost of cultivation very materially.

W. H. Flint, of Monson, Mass., writes in his report to the Scientific Farmer of his experiments of manures and fertilizers in 1877, that the work of planting and hoeing both corn and potatoes, was done after the Ross system and implements, without the use of the Hand hoe, only at the end of the rows, which left the crops clean of weeds.

E. O. Emmons, of Taftsville, Vt., writes his experiments in raising corn by hand labor, and also after the Ross system in 1877. The rows were 35 rods long, all manured, except the last 8 rows, was fertilized in the hill when planted. No. 1. 8 rows were planted and hoed through the season with hand hoes; took six hours to plant them. Produced 29¾ baskets of ears. No. 2. 8 rows were planted and hoed after the Ross system, took man and horse 20 minutes to plant them, and hoed equally as quick with the Ross implements, and produced 36 baskets of ears. No. 3. 8 rows were planted and hoed after the Ross system, and fertilized in the drill; took the same time to plant and hoe them that it did No. 2, and produced 43¾ baskets of ears.

By the above experiment, it is plain to be seen the amount of labor which can be saved and the increase of crop to be gained, by the Ross system of cultivation, over the old method of digging with hand hoes, and producing aching backs, and my crops were free from weeds.

Send 25 cents for the Ross system of cultivation.

We do not claim any fertilizing qualities in our machines, but do claim that the highest state of cultivation produces the largest crops, and that the Ross system and implements, strictly followed, produces the highest state of cultivation known. All machines warranted, and representations guaranteed if the system is strictly followed. Agents wanted who are practical farmers—NO OTHERS.

COKE!

PREPARED COKE

Is the common coke, broken by machinery, and screened to nut size and makes excellent and convenient fuel for kindling or for running a slow fire, and for all purposes where a quick, intense heat is required.

The Price is $4.00 per Chaldron, of 36 Bushels, Delivered.

The common, or unbroken coke, is preferable, where coarser fuel is required, as in furnaces, boilers, &c.

The price is $3 per chaldron, delivered.

The prepared coke, by reason of its close packing, contains 20 per cent. more weight in a chaldron than the common.

Orders left at the office, or at the works, of the Gas Company will receive prompt attention. ap1

The Newport Daily News and the Newport Journal.

The Newport Daily News is published every afternoon, (Sundays excepted,) at the News building, 18 Church street, by Davis & Pitman.

The Newport Journal is published at the same office every Saturday morning, and contains a selection of the best matter in the Daily, including editorial discussions of the topics of the week, literary miscellanies, and at least one good story, the latest markets and a complete and comprehensive summary of the news,—local and general. The Journal is a large, 32 column paper, and contains a large amount of reading matter that is valuable to readers in town or country who desire a good Newport paper, but who do not take a daily from this city.

Complaints regarding the irregular or improper delivery of either paper should be sent to the office at once.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

The Daily News, $5 per annum, or 12 cents a week, payable to carrier.

The Newport Journal. Terms $2 00 a year. A discount of 50 cents is made when the WHOLE YEAR is paid STRICTLY IN ADVANCE. These terms are invariable.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Ordinary advertisements, $1 a square, for the first insertion, and 25 cents for each continuance. Ten lines or less, in this type, make a square. Advertisements in reading matter, are charged for, at 50 per cent. extra, and are subject to editorial revision. A discount on these rates is allowed on all advertisements ordered in the daily for one week or longer. Funeral notices 50 cents each. Yearly advertisers are limited to their immediate business and are allowed twenty five changes a year. No gratuitous advertising for any object. The circulations of the News and Journal being necessarily distinct, an advertisement inserted in both papers will reach entirely different sets of readers. As further inducement for advertisers to use both the News and Journal, a liberal discount on the combined rates is made.

PRINTING.

Connected with the News is a large and well appointed job printing office. All orders for work in this department will be promptly filled, and at reasonable prices. The patronage of the public is respectfully solicited.

TO OUR PATRONS.

The publisher of the Newport Mercury has taken occasion, publicly and privately, to misrepresent the circulation of our papers as well as his own. In justice to ourselves and our advertisers, we have publicly denied the truthfulness of his statements and made a proposition to submit the proofs to a disinterested and impartial tribunal, which he declines, though persisting in his false statements. He probably refuses to exhibit his books in comparison with our own for the following reasons:

1.—They will show that he has not one half the circulation which he persistently and publicly claims.
2.—That we have more than three times the circulation that he ascribes to us, both in the city and county of Newport.
3.—That his circulation is less now than formerly and has been subject to a steady decline.
4.—That ours has regularly increased and is now larger than ever before.

S. Angier Chace has proved himself a great rascal. If any of our readers are tempted to walk in such devious ways let them ask themselves how much the Fall River defaulter gained by his rascality. He is poor, friendless and in prison.

WILLIAM CODDINGTON.

VINDICATED BY DR. KING.

A numerous and highly intelligent audience assembled at the Historical Cabinet last evening, to hear a paper read by Dr. David King of Newport, on the life and character of the first Governor of Rhode Island. In his history of Rhode Island, Hon. Samuel G. Arnold has represented Governor Coddington as a proud, ambitious and treacherous man. A few weeks ago Dr. Henry E. Turner of Newport, read a carefully prepared paper before the Historical Society, showing that his views are in accord with those of Governor Arnold. He directly charged Coddington with acting a treacherous part towards his colleagues in the Rhode Island and Providence Plantations. After careful research and reflection he reached the conclusion that a stigma must forever rest upon the memory of Coddington. In the course of his discourse he paid tributes of honor to the manly and patriotic conduct of Roger Williams, Samuel Gorton and Coddington's fellow settlers on the island. In this state of the case Dr. King has come to the defence of Coddington, tracing his life from 1625 to his death in 1678. The main facts in the personal narration are beyond dispute. Coddington was a man of much consideration, exerting a leading influence till he seemed to be disgraced by the excess of his ambition. He obtained the appointment for life as Governor of Rhode Island and Connecticut, causing great trouble to the planters who were endeavoring to enforce the Parliamentary Charter. This appointment had the effect to produce serious estrangement between Coddington and his colleagues, and has always been pointed out as indicating a treacherous spirit. Dr. King has brought into this case an account of the original proceedings before the Commissioners in London with explanations that give a different coloring to the conduct of Coddington. He seems to think that Coddington deserved honor rather than reproach for defeating the ambitious aims of Edward Winslow by securing his own magisterial appointment. The line of argument followed by Dr. King was ingenious and well sustained. It was a manly plea for the exercise of charity towards a man who was very unfortunate if not mean and treacherous. The paper was received with marked favor even by those who claimed that it had failed of its purpose.

On motion of Professor Gammell, who ordered some pertinent and spirited remarks, the thanks of the Society were voted to Dr. King for his interesting and valuable paper.—[Providence Star.

A GALLANT GIRL.

Lake Michigan has its Ida Lewis, and her father and brothers are as brave and heroic as she is herself. Sanford W. Morgan is keeper of the life-saving station at Grand Point au Sable, Mich., and after the close of navigation he allows the crew to go away for the winter, but remains on the ground with his daughter and his sons. At daylight on March 23, during one of the most violent gales of the season, with the sea so boisterous that it was covered with foam, a fishing boat was discovered about three miles off shore, in distress by Miss Edith. Quickly giving the alarm to her father and two brothers, she urged them to go, volunteering to take an oar herself to assist the crew. It seemed as though a boat could not possibly live in the mighty waves, but one was launched, and after a pull of two hours, with seas breaking over the small boat, and threatening its destruction and the loss of those on board, they succeeded in reaching the wreck, to find that one of the crew, who had been clinging to the side of the vessel, had become exhausted, and letting go his hold had been drowned. Another sailor, however, was rescued as he was about to give up, and was taken ashore. Nor was this the first time that the brave young girl had ventured out on an errand to save.

The pope, whose health by the way is not very good, is going on with his reforms and changes at the Vatican. Unlike Pius IX, who considered himself as grand treasurer and solely responsible for the wealth that belongs to the Holy See, Leo XIII, has declared his intention of establishing a committee of enquiry into the expenses and revenues of the Church, over which two cardinals will preside. Each item of more than one thousand francs is to bear his sign-manual before the money can be obtained from the treasury. To his own personal use his holiness will allow no sum to be allotted, and for this purpose he has instructed the principal chamberlain of the Vatican to give in each day the expenses incurred on his own account and on that of his immediate attendants. An audit of these accounts is to be held every month. All the female members of families residing at the Vatican are being removed from the palace. The pope objects to the presence of women in his premises, which might give rise to unfriendly comments on the part of strangers visiting the Vatican. He and his secretary of state, Cardinal Franchi, are said to be bent on advising Italian Catholics to vote at political elections.

New York is full of Micawbers—in so much as they are waiting for "something to turn up," but more ready than our old friend to do pretty much anything when there is a turn. Then there are the men who live extravagantly and keep insisting upon it that there is no money; that nobody has any. But somebody must have, for so many women put so much money into the tails of their gowns, and then by means of a long loop hang on to it through many miles of shopping. It is evident at a glance who the busy women are here, for their dresses are all short or pinned up decently, and they walk like healthy human beings and not like cripples. The present absurdity of a woman's street dress is enough to make one's back ache just to look at it: what it must be to wear it it is a horror I refuse to contemplate.

In the days of the first of the Bourbons flogging was not considered a degrading punishment. At least Henri IV. wrote thus to Mme. Montglass, the governess of the future Louis XIII.: "Madame: I have to complain that you have not written that you have whipped my son; for I desire and demand that you whip him every time he shows himself obstinate or anything else that is bad, knowing well by myself that there is nothing in the world which profits so much as that, which I acknowledge, for example, having myself profited; for being of his age, I was well flogged. This is why I wish you to make him listen to you.—Henri." It is greatly to be feared that Mme. Montglass, instead of obeying the orders of a wise father, spared the rod, and the child was certainly spoiled.

The Malden Mirror says Mr. A. H. Bicknell is finishing his great painting of "Lincoln at the Dedication of Gettysburg Cemetery," and will probably have it ready for exhibition early in the fall. He has on his easel a small copy of the painting which he is making for the use of the engraver. The picture has recently been visited by Rev. Warren H. Cudworth, General O. O. Howard and a Mr. Nixon of Indiana, who was an intimate friend of the martyr President, and the portrait he pronounces the finest he had ever seen.

There used to be a story of the adroit sharper who dried snow and sold it for salt, but little credence was given to it. In China, however, the ingenious natives blacklead chunks of ice and sell it for coal! So, at least, declares a Shanghai correspondent of the London Times, who found several lumps so treated in his scuttle.

JOHN CRAIG, Sergt. Sig. Ser. U. S. A.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

—The Samuel Dexter has gone to the assistance of a vessel ashore on Long Island.

—The Fourth Ward was the only one that sent a colored delegate to the City Convention.

—Dr. W. H. Cotton has presented an elegant dog collar to our efficient Captain of the police.

—Mr. S. Whitney Phœnix of New York was at the Perry House yesterday. His villa on Halidon Hill is nearly completed.

—The announcement that Arthur B. Mumford of the third ward is a candidate for alderman was a mistake. He prefers private life.

—The reports from the several wards as we go to press indicate that Mayor Bedlow is decidedly ahead. The mass of the voters are yet to go to the polls.

—In our report of the City Convention we should have stated that it was called to order by Mr. John J. Peckham, Secretary of the Republican City Committee.

—Wm. P. Peckham of the second ward is on the republican ticket for second member of the common council. He has seen service and will make a good member.

—We are pleased to know that Mr. W. T. Stevens, the gentlemanly ticket agent at the Old Colony Railroad depot, is able to be out again. He will soon resume his duties.

—F. W. Sprague received a severe injury to his shoulder while indulging in a friendly scuffle, this morning, with Capt. Stephen A. Gardner. The report on the street that the parties were angry is incorrect.

—There are lively times in some of the wards over local offices. What the result may be in the city generally it is altogether too early to say. We hear of but two candidates for the office of Mayor. The friends of Messrs. Bedlow and Slocum are hard at work and the workers are confident of success.

—A party of four young colored men, all more or less under the influence of liquor, made things lively on the hill last night; fences and window glass receiving their particular attention. One of the party was arrested and as the others are known to the police they will probably share the same fate.

—Col. Will. J. Cozzens of Gov. Van Zandt's staff was married at noon today to Miss Abby P., daughter of the late James C. Powell. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. G. J. Magill rector of Trinity Church, assisted by the Rev. E. M. Smith, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church. We congratulate the happy couple upon the interesting event. They went to New York via Wickford on their bridal tour. Only the most intimate friends witnessed the ceremony.

—A Rare Treat is in store for our people on Thursday evening at Reform Club Hall, when the Rev. Edwin A. Coates, the celebrated Quaker Clergyman who was so thoroughly identified with the Underground Railroad that he was forced to visit England,—where he was the guest of Queen Victoria and Prince Albert,—will lecture upon the great subject to which he has devoted his life. Major Welch has kindly consented to waive his engagement until a later date, to make way for Mr. Coates.

THE LATE CAPT. HOWLAND.—The funeral of Capt. George Howland was solemnized from his late residence at the corner of Touro and Spring streets yesterday afternoon the Rev. Mr. Kettell, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Peet, officiating at the house. After the services at the house the remains were taken in charge by the officers of Mount Vernon Lodge No. 5, A. F. & A. M. of Providence, of which the deceased was a member, he having requested them to perform the last sad rites over his remains. Washington Commandery, Knights Templar, in charge of Eminent Commander, Colonel William Gilpin and St. John's Lodge No. 1, A. F. & A. M., in charge of Worshipful Master, Isaac Gill, and a delegation from St. Paul's Lodge No. 14, A. F. & A. M., were also present. The funeral cortege was headed by the Newport Band, Prof. A. W. Hayes, leader. The following members of St. John's Lodge acted as bearers: James Atkinson, Jacob Frank, Joseph Bryerly, William Welsh, Joseph H. Colt and R. P. Crandall. Mount Vernon Lodge was represented by J. S. G. Cobb, Master; W. H. Perry, Senior Warden; Darius B. Davis, Junior Warden, and other officers. In addition to the Masonic fraternity there was a large gathering of the friends of the deceased, a large number of whom followed the remains to the cemetery. Mr. John S. Coggeshall acted as marshal of the day. The Knights Templar performed a brief but impressive service at the cemetery after which the burial service of the subordinate body was performed by the members of Mount Vernon Lodge. The remains were enclosed in a plain casket, the plate bearing the following inscription:—

> Capt. George Howland,
> Died April 13, 1878
> In his 82d year.

A DESERVING COMPLIMENT.—On Monday evening at a communication of St. John's Lodge No. 1, A. F. & A. M., Past Master William G. Stevens was presented with an elegant past master's jewel by the members of the lodge who hold him in high esteem. The presentation was made by Col. S. R. Honey in a brief but appropriate speech. Mr. Stevens feelingly responded and accepted the elegant gift. The jewel is of the modern pattern and is one of the finest ever presented to a past master in this city. We believe that our worthy city clerk, Mr. Stevens, is the youngest officer of that grade who has ever been [similarly honored.

THE CODDINGTON SAVINGS BANK.

It is well for the community to know the facts concerning this institution which from its very nature belongs to the public, and not to individuals or a class. A savings bank is not like an ordinary corporation where the managers can do as they will with their own. All the money in its possession are trust funds, and it is both a folly and a wrong at such times as the present to attempt to keep matters covered up. Honorable and fair dealings will give the depositors the facts as they exist, and we are pleased to know that the managers of the Coddington adopt this view of the subject. Through the courtesy of Hon. Thos. Coggeshall, the President, we are favored with the following figures which show the exact figures as they stood on the books Saturday April 15th at the close of the day:—

LIABILITIES.

Due Depositors	$138,679.00
Due U. S. Tax	7.00
Due First National Bank	16,602.00
	$155,288.00

ASSETS.

Mortgages	$153,465.00
United States Railroad, Canal, State, City, County and Town Bonds, Bank and Gas Stocks	356,750.00
	$510,215.00

The assets at par value show the sum of $54927.00 available to cover shrinkage of securities.

At market value this day, the property is estimated to be sufficient to pay the depositors within $21,000, or about 6 per cent. of the total deposits. The income of the bank it is believed will be sufficient in one year to cover the total shrinkage, while the appreciation of the securities may sooner make good the apparent loss. The commissioners having completed their examination find the facts as above, and find also that there has been no irregularity on the part of the trustees, treasurer or other officers of the bank.

An application was made yesterday by Darius Baker, counsel for the bank, on the advice of the commissioners for a temporary injunction which has been granted, so that the bank can now neither receive nor pay out deposits. As it has been stated that the embarrassment of the institution arises in part from the failure of the Newport Manufacturing Company and other parties here, it is well to add that not a dollar has been lost in this way. The trouble comes solely from the shrinkage in the value of securities, as for instance the bonds of the Lemoyne railroad $60,000 of which are now put down as worth but ten cents on a dollar. When these bonds were purchased they were considered not only safe but very desirable. Several New England Colleges, Insurance Companies, and holders of trust funds generally invested freely in them, and these now suffer together. Other bonds have been similarly affected by the hard times and hence the present embarrassment of the bank.

MIDDLETOWN.

Major A. D. Welch addressed the Reform Club at the Methodist Church Tuesday evening. Mr. W. A. Jack, Jr., introduced the speaker who gave one of his stirring appeals for temperance and sober living.

PEACE DALE.

The Rhode Island Association of Congregational Ministers met yesterday at the parsonage of the Peace Dale Congregational Church, with Rev. Mr. Fisher. The morning hours were occupied with miscellaneous business and an able sermon by Rev. Mr. Fisher on John 11, 9-10. "Jesus answered, are there not twelve hours in the day? If any man walk in the day he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world. But if a man walk in the night he stumbleth because there is no light in him."

The following propositions were considered at length. 1st One day is long enough for duty.

2nd. Where true light shines there can be no mistaking the light.

After a recess and the usual dinner by the host, the regular order was resumed and the Rev. A. J. F. Behrends of Providence read an exceedingly able exgesis on the XII chapter of Second Cor. 7—9.

After the argument of the association through an arrangement of Rev. Mr. Williams of Providence an excursion was planned by rail to Narragansett Pier. Thus ended a very delightful meeting of this association. The Rev. M. Van Horne of this city was present and participated in the services.

In a sermon Sunday Roman Catholic Bishop Hendricken of Providence severely denounced certain operas and plays which have been presented during the Lenten season as most shameful and indecent, and warned his people that they must not attend such amusements, for to do so would be a violation of every Christian principle and obligation.

YOUNG SNOBS BAFFLED.

[Cor. Boston Post.]

The troubles caused by a clique of snobbish young men in the Union League Club for two years culminated at a recent meeting, when Charles Waite, formerly of Boston, and now the proprietor of the Windsor Hotel, was black-balled. No reason was offered, and no one was supposed to know who voted against him. His father was one of the original members of the club, and Charles Waite was on very intimate terms with many of its influential members. After his name was proposed the Admitting Committee passed it favorably at once, and when the ticket was voted on which his name stood nearly every one supposed that he was certain of election, even if others were black-balled, so that when the tellers returned and announced that Waite was not elected the older members became very indignant. The meeting adjourned quietly, though little knots of men stood around afterward and talked very excitedly about it. The black-balling business by a few snobs had to be stopped, and the only way to do was to checkmate them. The checkmating was accomplished last Thursday night. Five names were voted on, some of them special friends of the clique that had been black-balling every one out of their set for two years. Their entire list was black-balled. Some of the older members expressed no surprise at this extraordinary result, but some of the younger members left off twirling their moustaches and turned white with anger. They were beaten at their own game. They saw that a combination had been formed to black-ball every one. Then it was moved that the methods used to carry on the election be investigated, and ex-United States District Attorney Bliss said: "I approve decidedly of that resolution provided an amendment be added that the same Committee also investigate previous elections for the last two years." Col. Bliss had them fairly in a trap and they knew it, but they dared not oppose the amendment, and the resolution as amended was passed. While the feeling between the young blooded clique and the rest has intensified, the truth is that a certain little clique of young fellows, with little moustaches, good clothes plenty of money and no brains, have for two years past been black-balling every one who did not quite suit their snobbish notions. Once before it got so far that there was a secret agreement by those who objected to these fellows running the club to black ball every name. They black-balled Charles Waite for no other reason than because he keeps a hotel. They once before black-balled Mr. Jones, the proprietor of the St. James, for the same reason. He is a brother of Senator Jones. The young bloods want to make the club a kind of kid-glove, snobbish affair, but the many distinguished and patriotic men who are members do not intend to stand such nonsense. The young fellows say that the club is for gentlemen, but there seems to be a different standard on the part of the two parties in the club by which to take the measure of a gentleman.

The New England dam is a source of much perturbation to the New England people. Hardly a spring passes without stories of the inundation of some fair New England valley by a bursting dam, and, not infrequently, sad stories of loss of life come with them. Just now they are anxiously watching a leak in the dam at Ashburnham, near Fitchburg, Mass. Twenty eight years ago this dam gave way, and did immense damage. It holds back about 100 acres of water, and it can readily be imagined what devastation so vast a body let loose could carry before it. There must be something defective in the dam system of New England or there would not be this constant recurrence of such accidents. The use of water in the mills of Massachusetts, Connecticut, and Rhode Island is so general that its control should be better managed.—[N. Y. Express.

THE SEVEN.—The Philadelphia Times says at a recent meeting of the Cabinet a lively discussion began, while they were waiting for Mr. Hayes to come in, as to what they ought to call themselves. Schurz gave the rest a sound rating and modestly called the company the Seven Sleepers. Mr. Key interrupted him by saying they were the Seven Wonders of the world, whereupon old man Thompson said they were the Mystic Seven. Lawyer Evarts hopped up and said they were the Seven Wise Men, but the question was definitely settled by the grim old warrior, McCrary, who called this Cabinet of curiosities the Seven Devils Worse Then the First.

The early opening of the canals gives an impetus to trade, and the boatmen are preparing for a busy season's work. At Buffalo the boats are already loaded, and the fact that several hundred new ones have been built during the winter is evidence that the low-toll system will give the increase of business predicted by those who argued for the measure.

As showing the cost of labor in Europe, the rate of wages paid on certain railroad works of the same class was—in Portugal, $1.45 a week; in Ireland, $2.20; in France, $2.90; and in England $5.50.

MORMONISM.

The fight has begun between the heirs of the late Brigham Young and the Church of the Latter-Day Saints. There will be a chance now in the courts to know where Brigham's money came from, and the true inwardness of Mormon money-making may come to the front. Won't it be fun for Ann Eliza—and the others? It is generally believed that Brigham Young must have had a pretty hot time of it, with his score of wives, while living, but now that he is dead, things are being made still hotter by his heirs. The Prophet left behind $1,000,000, which the executors of his will wish to transfer to the church, but which the heirs naturally desire should find its way into their pockets. Hence the prospect of a general scrimmage. There is promise of rich developments, the claim being made that Brigham filched the money from the church, and that to return it now would only be a just restitution. If the vice and rottenness of the whole Mormon belief could be shown up in the impending trial a good end would be conserved. That this leprous blot should have so long remained on the civilization of the country does not speak well for the manliness or morality of its legislators. Perhaps, when the venality of the recognized head of the Church of the Latter-Day Saints is exposed, there will be a strong revulsion of feeling that will wipe out Mormondom and put in its place decency and morality.

YACHT SOLD.—The Sloop yacht Sadie was sold at auction at New York last Saturday in the interests of the estates of her late owners—Messrs. Greenleaf and Norris. With her tackle, furniture, boats, sails and crockery she brought $2,375, Mr. J. S. Simons being the purchaser. The Sadie is 50.8 feet over all, 17.1 feet on the water line and 36.58 tons old measurement. She was built by Herrishoff for a Boston gentleman, who sold her to Mr. Peabody Russell of the same city, after which Mr. Smith Ford became her owner, and then she passed into the hands of Mr. M. T. Davidson of New York, who, in turn, disposed of her to her late owners. When Mr. Norris died he was Rear Commodore of the Brooklyn Yacht Club.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

NATURE DEMANDS A TONIC

When the nerves are unstrung, the head aches, the appetite is poor or variable, the sleep disturbed, and a general depreciation of vital power is experienced. Such a state of things cannot long exist without the development of serious disease. The most active and genial invigorant known is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The absolute purity of its spirituous basis and botanic ingredients give it a permanent claim to public confidence, and its surpassing medicinal value is admitted by medical men of distinction, by whom it is widely used in private practice. For fever and ague—both as a preventive and remedy,—dyspepsia, liver complaint, bilious remittent fever, constipation, cholerale complaints, flatulence, and all intestinal disorders, it is a thoroughly reliable remedy. It is the anti-febrile specific par excellence of the malarial districts of this and other countries, where diseases born of miasma prevail, and as a general remedy it is also universally esteemed.

A GENTLE HINT.

In our style of climate, with its sudden changes of temperature,—rain wind and sunshine often intermingled in a single day,—it is no wonder that our children, friends and relatives are so frequently taken from us by neglected colds, half the deaths resulting directly from this cause. A bottle of Boschee's German Syrup kept about your home for immediate use will prevent serious sickness, a large doctor's bill, and perhaps death, by the use of three or four doses. For curing consumption, hemorrhages, pneumonia, severe coughs, croup or any disease of the throat or lungs, its success is simply wonderful, as your druggist will tell you. German Syrup is now sold in every town and village on this continent. Sample bottles for trial, 10c.; regular size 75c. For sale by J. H. Taylor, Newport.

WONDER WORLD.

BY

MARIE PABKE and MARGERY DEANE

ILLUSTRATED BY LUCY G. MORSE.

"A feast to lovers of wonder lore."—[Albany Eve. Post.

"These wonderful tales are deservedly popular for the long evenings of winter and will be warmly welcomed in this excellent translation."—[New York Evening Post.

"The extraordinary variety of the sources ransacked for these literary treasures gives a peculiar interest to the book, which becomes in a manner representative of many different forms of folk-lore. Readers, young and old, will find much to entertain them in the volume."—[Boston Journal.

"Many of them are really very beautiful tales and deserve to be permanently embalmed in our wonder lore. They will not only enrapture the young, but interest those of maturer years."—[Albany Eve. Journal.

"A pleasant collection of some of the best of modern and mediæval fairy stories, well translated."—[Zion's Herald.

"The story of Tola the Archer is a characteristic and interesting tale from the Japanese, by Prof. W. E. Griffis, the best authority on Japanese literature in America."—[Boston Transcript.

"Whoever wishes to see how irrespective of nation, clime or complexion is the lore of the mystic and marvellous; in a word how innate in man is the sense of the supernatural or divine, will read this book. * * * We are grossly mistaken if our young friends and their elders too, do not take to Wonder World."—[New York Christian Adv.

"Stories equally charming from their novelty and valuable as types of the people from whose literature they are chosen. Many are really very beautiful tales and deserve to be permanently embalmed in our wonder lore. Not only enrapture the young, but charm those of maturer years."—[Clyde Times.

"After a careful examination of the book we can truly say that the collectors have done their work with excellent taste and rare good judgment and have made excellent selections. * * * A source of perpetual delight to the lad and lassie fortunate enough to possess it. It is certainly fascinating to children of a larger growth."—[Fort Wayne Sentinel.

"The volume shows excellent discrimination and being handsomely brought out must be ranked with the foremost ventures of the present year. It merits a permanent sale long after the gift season has gone by."—[The Nation.

"Clear type, fine paper, pretty binding. * * * Wonder World will prove a popular favorite, and a permanent addition to the lore of fairy land. The last story is alone worth the price of the volume."—Christian Register.

APRIL, 1878.

APRIL 1st being the commencement of the second quarter of the year all bills contracted during the first quarter will be presented for payment. That quite a number of these bills will be paid within a short time is a foregone conclusion, for there are many grand people in this world. The undersigned is sure that if all receiving them could but fully understand how much he wants and needs to have them paid that there would be crowded times about the paying desk, and that the payers would leave with that tranquil and balmy condition of mind which follows an act of justice and right doing. Let all who read this strive for the tranquility and balm.

Conanicut Park!

A PLEASANT SUMMER RESORT.

THE HOTEL at Conanicut Park will be kept during the coming season in the same general style as heretofore. It has been renovated and will be in complete order for the comfort and convenience of guests. No pains or expense will be spared to make it an attractive home for such as desire a seaside resort. For terms, &c., which will be found very low in view of the accommodations, address or inquire of MRS. A. J. CORY, on the premises.

Furnished Cottages.

SEVERAL FURNISHED COTTAGES are to let for the season at a low rental. These may be had with board at the hotel when desired; or fully fitted for housekeeping. Price from $250 to $500 for the full season.

All the steamers, plying between Newport and Providence, stop at the Park, and communication can be had with either city at all hours. Time to Newport, less than thirty minutes. This gives residents all the advantages of the larger cities at a small fraction of the cost. As a quiet summer resort there is no place in the vicinity so desirable. For particulars concerning cottages, &c., address or inquire of L. D. DAVIS, at Daily News office, Newport, R. I. ap1

VOICE FROM THE BRITISH CABINET.

BOUND TO OCCUR—A MUZZLE.

Britons, see the Bear advance, far beyond his lawful home;
Let's prepare a muzzle for him, and when muzzled let him roam;
For without it he may meddle with our interests in the East;
Now the brute has scared all Europe, we must make a stand, at least.
We're the will and pluck to do it, as we did it once before,
But we'll put a stronger muzzle than we put in fifty-four;
One that shall be part and parcel of the future Russian Bear,
And when Nations ask who did it, say the British put it there. J. C. WHITEHOUSE.

HOW SEWER GAS IS FORCED OUT OF PIPES.

The sizes of our sewers are generally based upon the quantity of rain water that is likely to get into them within a limited time, and the inclination or slope of the sewer itself. The volume of sewerage is so small when compared with the possible flow of rain water in this climate that it is hardly necessary to take it into consideration, even in our densely peopled cities, as an element in determining the size of the sewers. It follows that the ordinary dry weather flow in our sewers is but a driblet if compared with their contents when gorged by the drainage of a powerful rain. Such rains often come suddenly, and the water enters the sewer at frequent intervals by trapped openings, preventing the exit of air. Sewers are at such times often quite filled with water through the least inclined parts of their course. The entrance of water in such quantities must summarily expel the air that was previously in the sewers, if it can find any way to get out. It may often happen, however, that a long sewer is at such times filled with water at two parts of its course, while some intermediate part, having a more rapid fall, may not fill so soon. If the influx of water continues to increase, the air in this portion may soon become subject to a pressure of several feet of water, and seek exit through every private drain in connection. Even if the connections of the private drains are under the water line in the sewer, the pressure will be transferred through that water, which will back up into them, and force back their contents accordingly. The subsidence of the flow when the rain abates leaves voids which the outer air is sure to fill speedily. If direct access is not given, it will find its way through any private drains, emptying all their traps at once.

In cities which drain into tide-water the out falls of the sewers are generally covered at high water, either every day or at spring tides. If the ends have no gates, the tide enters and fills the sewer as far back as its level allows. If gates exist they shut with the flow of the tide, and sewage accumulates behind them with a result often almost exactly similar to what would occur without gates. In either case a large volume of air is driven up from the outfall toward the ramification of the system by every flood tide which covers the mouth of the sewer, only to be drawn back again when the ebb tide allows the sewer to empty itself. If this air does not communicate freely with the outer air, a pressure of several feet of water must necessarily result, alternating with vacuum to the same amount every twelve hours.

Large variations of pressure inside the sewers may also arise from the variable quantity of sewage flowing in them. Nearly all the sewage is discharged from the house during the hours of daylight, the flow during the night being very small in comparison. Hence a periodic increase and decrease of the amount of air space within the sewers, dependent upon and varying inversely with the amount of sewage flowing. This is particularly noticeable among manufacturing establishments where much water is used during working hours, and which do not run during the night. Of course, the air must leave the space to make room for the sewage in the morning, and, as the flow of sewage diminishes in the evening, the outer air crowding in to fill the vacuum by whatever openings or ducts are most available.—[Edward S. Philbrick, in the Plumber.

A MYSTERY UNVEILED.

It was a big case, strongly fastened, and consigned to Messrs. Mullen & Son, of Broadway. The carman who brought it came late, and, as the establishment of the messrs. Mullen was closed, their neighbor Mr. Montgomery instructed some of his men to take it up stairs and keep it safe there till morning. He little knew that this courteous turn would be the prolific source of much consternation in his establishment that night and in fact in all that neighborhood. But so it proved. The hours wore on and a clerk was ensconsed on the big box talking politics to the watchman and janitor, when he was startled by a sudden buzzing noise just underneath him. That wielder of the pen jumped fully a yard in the air and when he had come down he gazed upon the case with an alarmed and abstracted air. The noise was coming from it—a curious sound wirring and clattering like the unwinding of machine gear. A dreadful suspicion flashed upon the onlooker for Thomassen, the dynamite fiend, had used just such a contrivance to compass his wicked ends. Might not some conspirator have introduced this infernal machine with the benign intention of blowing No 302 Broadway and its animated contents into atoms? The thought was dreadful, so the clerk communicated it to his companions and took to his heels. Only a moment did the watchman tarry, only a moment to see if the janitor had escaped breaking his neck in his leap down the stairway, and then he, too, plunged into the night and made his best time to the French precinct police station, where he found the clerk detailing his dreadful discovery. Properly reinforced, the party returned to the building, every moment expecting to see the red shadow of the explosion thrown across the way. Once there, an intrepid officer, baton in hand, mounted the stairway till he heard, loud and clear, issuing from the mysterious case a sound like a burglar's alarm. This was too much for his nerves, and he broke for the door with an idea that the house was tumbling down upon him. There was another interval, and then as no destroying element was heard from, a simultaneous ascent was made by the party and the case was taken by storm. Slowly and cautiously it was pried open. None to soon, however, as the whirring noise was beginning again, and another retreat was meditated. Then, as the dark lanterns flashed into it, the mystery was unveiled. The case was filled with clocks.

CATARRH

A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

30 Years a Physician. 12 Years a Sufferer. Tried Regular Remedies. Tried Patent Medicines. Permanently cured by

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER.—Sirs: I have prescribed medicine for thirty years, and have been a sufferer myself for twelve years with Catarrh in the nasal passages, fauces and larynx. I have tried everything in the materia medica, without permanent relief, until finally I was induced to try a patent medicine (something that we physicians are very loth to do). I tried —— and divers others until I got hold of yours. I followed the directions to the letter, and am happy to say have had a permanent cure. Your RADICAL CURE is certainly a happy combination for the cure of that most unpleasant and dangerous of diseases.

Yours, respectfully,
D. W. GRAY, M. D.,
Of Dr. D. W. Gray & Son, Physicians and Druggists, Muscatine, Iowa.

MUSCATINE, Iowa, March 20, 1877.

The value of this remedy must not be overlooked in the cure of those

SYMPATHETIC DISEASES,

Affections of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes which in many cases accompany a severe case of Catarrh. The inflamed and diseased condition of the mucous membrane is the cause of all these troubles; and until the system has been brought properly under the influence of the RADICAL CURE, perfect freedom from them cannot be reasonably expected.

It is but three years since SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was placed before the public, but in that short time it has found its way from Maine to California, and is everywhere acknowledged by druggists and physicians to be the most successful preparation for the thorough treatment of Catarrh ever compounded. The fact will be deemed of more importance when it is coupled with the statement that within five years over 20 different remedies for Catarrh have been placed on sale, and to-day, with one or two exceptions, their names cannot be recalled by the best informed druggist. Advertising may succeed in forcing a few sales, but, unless the remedy possess undoubted specific medicinal properties, it is absolutely certain to fall into merited obscurity.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1.00. Sold by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

CARRIAGE REPOSITORY.

I HAVE NOW ON HAND and constantly receiving direct from the manufacturers, new carriages of all descriptions and can sell them at prices to suit the times, that is, lower than ever before, consisting of carryalls, extension tops, jump seats, phaetons, buggies of all kinds, business wagons &c. Also on hand a number of second-hand carriages that must be sold to make room for new ones. Among them are 1 extension top and 1 phaeton buggy belonging to parties who have no use for them and will sell very cheap.

Phaeton only $35.
Trotting gig in perfect order only $30.
Trotting wagon only $15.
Nice one, cost $225 will sell for $80, in perfect order.
Express wagons, Buggies, phaetons and business, at any price from $40 to $100 each.
Received this day, on consignment, one jump seat, one phaeton buggy, one two-seat wagon; must be sold to raise the money.
Come and see them, and recollect we will trade for anything in the carriage line from a stage coach to a wheelbarrow.

HAY AND STRAW.

I WANT TO SELL OR TRADE THE FOLLOWING VEHICLES:

1 Victoria,	3 box top buggies,
2 park phaetons,	1 C-spring phaeton buggy,
2 Bretts,	2 phaetons,
2 barouches,	2 beach wagons,
7 new phaeton buggies,	4 open box wagons,
3 express wagons,	1 English Cart,
1 new Brewster buggy,	1 hearse, (chest)
1 new box top buggy,	1 gig,
1 hackaway carryall, (new)	9 sleighs,
2 new jump-seat carryalls,	2 new pony phaetons,
2 pony sleighs,	4 carryalls,

And other carriages which are trading about every day.

Anyone having the cash on hand and intending to buy this spring can make his interest more than good by calling at my carriage store room and investing now.

Would also like to have my friends who intend to paint up either their houses or carriages to give us their work now, as when the birds begin to sing we are generally overloaded with calls, and of course sometimes get behind with our work. Now don't delay, but send in your orders and we will try to do in the future as we have in the past—do as we agree.
